Very saddened to hear about Ray. I had been corresponding through Facebook for quite a while and the last thing he said to me was I knew he was no quitter. I told him I was sure of that and would be praying for a recovery. Haven't seen him since the late 90's, and of course, before that time it had been about 1980, but he was not someone you would forget. I'm grateful that I was in touch with him again these last couple of years. RIP, old friend. I will see you on the other side.
