Virginia Peck, a beloved matriarch known for her grace, warmth, and devotion to family, passed away on Saturday, March 23, 2024, at Kingston of Vermilion. She was 100 years old.

Born on March 6, 1924, in Corry, Pennsylvania, Virginia's journey through life was marked by unwavering love, kindness, and a steadfast commitment to those she held dear. She spent her formative years in Canisteo, New York, and most of her adult life in Bath, New York where she cultivated the values that would shape her life's purpose. In 2008, she relocated to Ohio following the passing of her beloved husband.

Virginia was deeply rooted in her faith and community. As a dedicated member of the Christian Women's Club and an active participant at Centenary United Methodist Church in Bath, New York, she found fulfillment in serving others and spreading joy wherever she went. Her home was always open, and she took great pride in extending hospitality to all who crossed her threshold.

A consummate homemaker, Virginia approached every task with precision and care. Her impeccable style and flair for entertaining were evident in the delightful meals she prepared and the warm gatherings she hosted. She had a passion for cooking and baking, with pies being a particular specialty that brought smiles to many faces. Traveling alongside her husband, Virginia found immense joy in exploring new places and experiencing life's adventures together. Yet, amidst her many pursuits, family remained her top priority. She cherished moments spent with loved ones, creating memories that would be treasured for generations to come.
